By JACK STINNETT Chicago - Oldtime Republicans in this area are getting a chuckle out of former Kansas Gov. Alf. M. Landon's recent press conference and speech here before the district conference of Rotary International.

What they are saying is, in effect: "At last, Gov. Landon and former President Herbert Hoover have found a presidential bandwagon they can climb on.' It's a rare thing when former presidents or presidential bandvagon they can climb on.'

It's a rare thing when former presidents or presidential nominees really get behind the men who succeed them in party favor. It can hardly be said at this pre-convention date that either Mr. Landon or Mr. Hoover are positively committed, but it no longer is any secret that both will back Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, if he wins the nomination, and that he will win is a foregone conclusion in all but a few circles on both sides of the political fence. In his press conference, Mr. Landon let it be known that he considered the nomination of Dewey practically an established fact.

As for former President Hoover, it's becoming more apparent daily the results of a request made by Larry Adler, the harmonica vir-tuoso, over a radio broadcast from Chicago. Adler got the idea from a daily batch of letters from soldiers asking for his worn-out that he not only is in the Dewey instruments. A high school harmonica orranks but is helping to steer that potential nomination toward a successful conclusion. At least that's how Illinois and other middle western observers are figuring it. They aren't unhappy about either. Dewey, they reasn, it "young blood." He has a record of being for domestic reforms but has been opposed consistently to the methods by which the present administration has effected them.

To have two outstanding old-line conservative Republicans—the only living former pre tehhtneitedocm living former president; the other, a defeated candidate, and neither of them Willkieites-out for Dewey seems to G.O.P. leaders here to argue well for the support of ::.e conservative wing of the party something that was sadly lacking in 1940.

Former President Hoover will be one of the principal speakers at the Republican national convention here in late June. What he says may be more important than Keynoter Gov. Earl Warren's address and certainly more significant than the speech by Rep. Clare Boothe Luce, of Connecticut.

The way political observers in this convention hotbed argue is that neither Gov. Warren nor Mrs. Luce will compromise with the policies they have backed all along. They feel that Mr. Hoover, if he should pull out all the stops, which they doubt now, could show the oldliners a way to cross the stream into the Dewey camp. If Mr. Landon also joins in the Dewey campaign, observers say here, it may result in a more perfect Republican party unity than at any time

Chicago - If you take the word f some Illinois Republican leaders have talked to, the midwest is a little upset about the way they have been "slighted" in the .O.P. convention set-up.

Gov. Dwight H Republican Green, several Republican newspaper editorial writers, and numer-ous "non-coms" in the political ranks here are a little unhappy that the middle west hasn't been given at least an outstanding speaker on the program of the convention to be held here June 26.

They point out that on the present convention program, Rep. Joe Martin of Attleboro, Mass., is scheduled for permanent chairman; Gov. Earl Warren of California, for keynote speaker; Rep. Clare Boothe Luce of Connecticut, the party's glamour girl, and former President Hoover, for the two other big speaker spots.

This, they argue, leaves a wide gap in the middle west, which on the basis of recent "trend elections" is becoming almost as solidly Republican as the "solid South" is Democratic, and should have recognition as such.

These unhappy midwesterners ignore or brush off the facts that chairman of the Republican national committee is Harrison Spangler, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa; and that the No. Two man on the potential presidential ticket seems to be Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio.

As far as I can find out, the reason for this attitude about these two outstanding midwesterners, is that "Spang" is just a work-a-day hired hand who was no chosen for any geographical reasons; and that Gov. Bricker is working entirely on his own without even a nod from the national party organization and no assurance he will get

Gov. Warren, they say, has the California Republican delegation vote in his pocket, has been talked of for both presidential and vicepresidential nominee, yet has been
